If you’re looking to contribute to (probably) the largest tree-planting festival in Africa, we invite you to become a patron of Reforest Fest.

Becoming a Patron will not only support your love for Reforest Fest, the arts, environmental experiential education and the inspiring, immersive nature experiences for thousands of people; but it will significantly contribute to the sustainable improvement of the event, co-creating a space with us to celebrate the age of restoration.

Our Patrons play a pivotal role in transforming the Reforest Fest, allowing us to properly create an extraordinary space to learn and play, serve artists, our crew, and audiences from all over. By becoming a Patron, your support enables us to ensure that the festival remains accessible to our entire community, with a focus on delivering more free and accessible programming to those who need it.

We are confident that our annual Reforest Fest is needed to breathe positive environmentalism into the world, getting our hands dirty together restoring precious ecosystems and learning valuable lessons from nature and one another.

Our Patrons understand that ticket sales only cover a portion of the festival budget and are a group of generous donors who are committed to supporting Reforest Fest. By providing crucial support, they enable us to deliver a multi-faceted programme with a high level of production. They recognise this is an innovative festival bridging the gap between environmentalism and play, a creative ecosystem in and of itself, and want to support Reforest Fest to plant thousands of trees and inspire thousands of people for the betterment of our planet.

Our work extends beyond the annual, restoration celebration weekend and we invite you to extend your support as well.
The patronage period lasts for one year, and we offer 4 different tiers of patronage. As a token of our gratitude for your essential contribution, you will receive the following benefits - note each tier greater includes the previous tier's benefits:
